

Celebrating our Angelic Partners Equine Dinner Show

Saturday, June 9th, 2012

Presented by Ten Broeck Farm

A portion of proceeds to benefit the Community Hospice House

A special tribute to those who enrich our lives with compassion and love.

No one can dispute the selfless generosity shared time and time again from the Community Hospice House, owned and operated by Home Health and Hospice Care (HHHC).

Employees, volunteers, and friends comprise a group of individuals who give tirelessly to comfort those in need and offer invaluable support to families. They are indeed angels among us.

To show our appreciation and generate continuous awareness for the HHHC, a grand night is planned for supporters from all towns, social circles—within and beyond the equestrian community—to enjoy an evening of great food, entertainment and company for a very worthy cause.

The angels in our lives can have two legs, or four...hands, even hooves. "Celebrating our Angelic Partners" is a show designed to highlight horses for their unique ability to work nothing short of a miracle by offering a true partnership to so many.

Similar to the men and women of the HHHC community, our talented equines can be guides, healers, and friends...a source of inspiration and cherished companions. Equine therapy has been effective in treating people with a wide spectrum of physical, behavioral, social, cognitive, and psychological challenges. Patients with cerebral palsy, Down's syndrome, multiple sclerosis, depression, mental retardation, spina bifida, even speech disorders have improved as the result of working with a trusted equine partner. Exceptional people have dedicated their lives and professions to developing animals with specialized training for therapeutic benefits.

Throughout history, horses and humans have bonded in a manner almost impossible to articulate with words. Perhaps, because these animals do not communicate with speech as we know it, yet they talk to us every day and touch the inner most soul of our hearts.

The Ten Broeck Farm Equine Dinner Show celebrates our angelic partners, these priceless relationships, the unwavering devotion...and pays tribute to a horse's uncanny ability to bring joy when we need it most.

MAGIC HORSES

By Debbie Garcia-Bengochea

There is a place far beyond the clouds
And past the moon and sun,
Over the rainbow and through your dreams
Where magic horses run.

A place that shines with fairy dust
And your wishes all come true,
Horse shadows dance in color there
And horse eyes are always blue

With enchanted hooves and silken manes,
They chase the violet sky
Over pastel hills of pink and green
And yellow mountains high.

They say when magic horses prance
Their touch makes flowers grow,
And memories last forever
Wherever magic horses go.

And, when the sun shines silver
And rain falls in every hue,
They slip away and walk here on earth
And visit me and you.

So watch for little horses
The eyes will be your clue,
And fairy dust and flowers
And a little magic too.
